

Christmas FIGS

FIG TREE & CO

For me, Christmas is all about tradition. My large collection of classic red and green quilts come out the day after Thanksgiving and decorate my home through the holidays! There is something about those quilts that always makes me pause, take a deep breath and remember the season. While the green goes away in January, the red and ivory collection brings me joy through Valentine's Day.

Christmas Figs is my way of sharing this tradition with timeless quilts and projects. Most of these prints are perfect blenders that work for so many different kinds of projects, and mix well with my other collections. The prints are not overtly Christmas on their own, but they work together to bring a wonderful Christmas feel to your home, helping you share my holiday tradition!
